LibreOffice is the modern software for all office-documents. Free to use at home, at school or in the office, without having to pay for licenses. This is possible, because the work is supported by many people and companies. You too can join in extending, improving, and promoting LibreOffice, just as many others already do.

The program has an appearance that you recognize and well known functions and many handy features. You can continue to use your files from Word, Excel and Powerpoint. You can work on documents from other programs with the use of LibreOffice too.

Contemporary means: saving your files with ODF - the modern ISO-certified Open-Document File format. LibreOffice does it.

Sharing a document with someone who is using an older version of Word can be simply done by saving as .doc. You may also directly mail as .doc Really handy is saving or sending it as PDF with just a few clicks. You can start working immediately.

For everyone As user you take a 'bleeding edge' or a stable version. As organization you take one of the two active stable versions. And businesses can choose for TLS with one of the companies that offer LibreOffice support.

Best successor LibreOffice offers the most and the best features of all free office suites. Look here <http://www.libreoffice.org/features/why-libreoffice/> for a summary of the unique possibilities that LibreOffice does offer you.

Help with installing, the use and new features ? You'll find it here: <http://www.libreoffice.org>, at Support. With tips a mailing list and documentation.
