

LibreOffice
The Document Foundation

Needs 50 000 Euro to have its Foundation
Donate for an independent LibreOffice community

At the moment, The Document Foundation is not a legal entity as such. Instead, the German non-profit association, OpenOffice.org Deutschland e.V., notwithstanding its name, is holding our legal assets, accepts donations for us, and pays our infrastructure costs and other things.

The decision not to set-up the foundation right at the launch of the project was a deliberate choice to leave the doors open to potential contributors, and to allow everyone to take part in shaping it.

LibreOffice
The Document Foundation

During the last few weeks, the Steering Committee of The Document Foundation evaluated various options for establishing the legal entity. During a public Steering Committee phone conference, the decision was taken to form the foundation in Germany, in the legal form of a "Stiftung".

The 50,000 Euro Challenge!

To legally form The Document Foundation in Germany, a minimum of 50,000 Euro is needed. Therefore, we've launched this public 50,000 Euro challenge to raise the funds through donations.

<http://challenge.documentfoundation.org>

LibreOffice is a legal trademark of the Document Foundation.

LibreOffice
The Document Foundation

Needs 50 000 Euro to have its Foundation
Donate for an independent LibreOffice community

At the moment, The Document Foundation is not a legal entity as such. Instead, the German non-profit association, OpenOffice.org Deutschland e.V., notwithstanding its name, is holding our legal assets, accepts donations for us, and pays our infrastructure costs and other things.

The decision not to set-up the foundation right at the launch of the project was a deliberate choice to leave the doors open to potential contributors, and to allow everyone to take part in shaping it.

LibreOffice
The Document Foundation

During the last few weeks, the Steering Committee of The Document Foundation evaluated various options for establishing the legal entity. During a public Steering Committee phone conference, the decision was taken to form the foundation in Germany, in the legal form of a "Stiftung".

The 50,000 Euro Challenge!

To legally form The Document Foundation in Germany, a minimum of 50,000 Euro is needed. Therefore, we've launched this public 50,000 Euro challenge to raise the funds through donations.

<http://challenge.documentfoundation.org>

LibreOffice is a legal trademark of the Document Foundation.